FALLS CHURCH HIGH SCHOOL

Falls Church, Virginia

FALLS CHURCH

Falls Church High School has closed its doors on another year. The halls give a sigh of relief; the lockers ease their dented doors; the classrooms breathe the quiet air; and F.C.H.S. is peaceful.

The seniors, hearts filled with memories and heads filled with knowledge, face the world. The juniors race towards the summer and with thoughts of "seniors, mighty seniors," forget the books and teachers. The sophomores and freshmen leave with the confidence of becoming upper classmen.

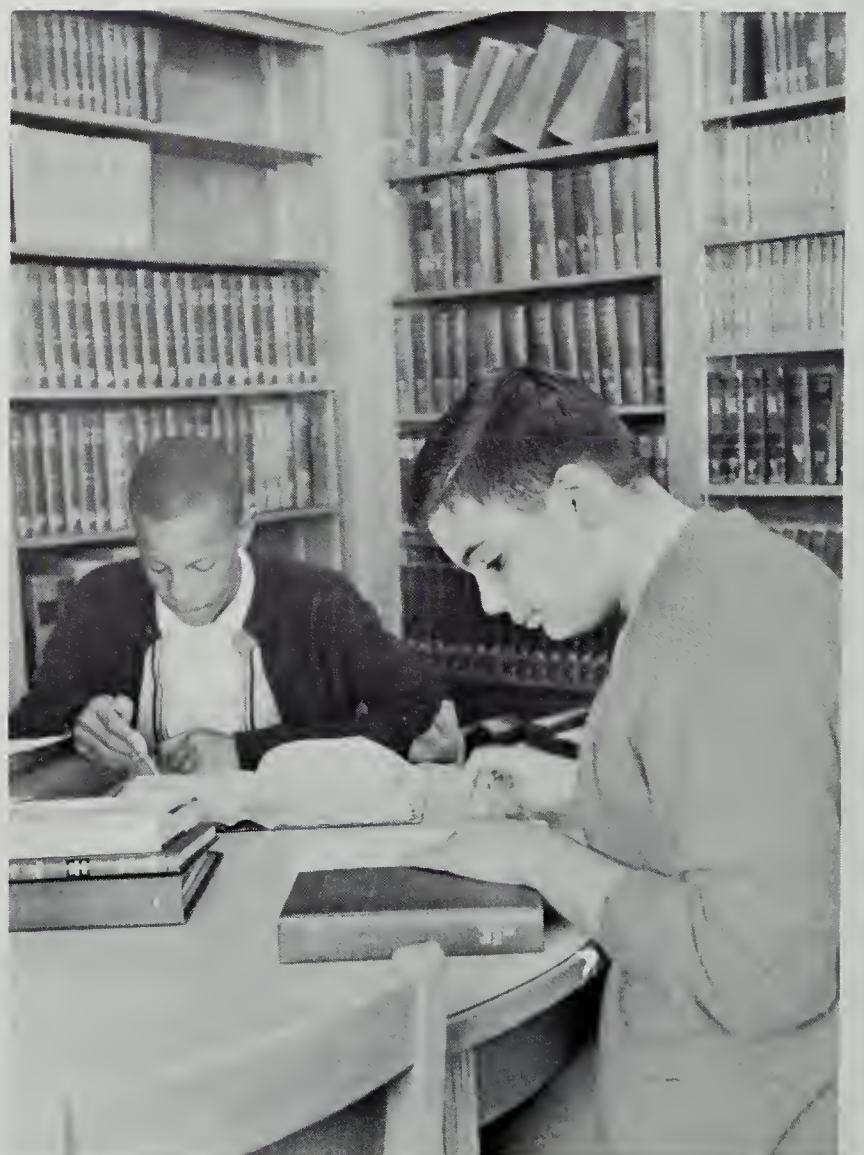

Falls Church has been, is, and will be many things—spirit, pride, friendship, joy, sorrow, experience.

The desks treat their wounded tops; the books relax their backs; the windows blink unseeing; and, as we close, F.C.H.S. is peaceful.

The "Dads" tensely watch the Jaguar team.

In a successful effort to raise money for a whirl-pool bath for the athletic department, the Falls Church High Boosters Club sponsored a Faculty vs. Boosters basketball game. The Faculty was victorious, but the Boosters succeeded in raising enough money to purchase the whirl-pool bath.

MR. JAMES LUNSFORD

Whether marching with the band at football games, dashing to a meeting of the SCA of which he is a sponsor, or conducting the concert and dance bands, Mr. Lunsford is a well-known figure around Falls Church High School. His has been the task of creating, within a period of four years, a band which is the pride of our school.

The '65 JAGUAR respectfully salutes Mr. Lunsford in appreciation of his genuine interest in and intelligent guidance of the cultural program of the students of Falls Church High School.

ACADEMICS

Principal, THOMAS D. TODD

Mr. Thomas D. Todd, principal of Falls Church High School, received his B.A. from the University of Richmond and his M.A. from the University of Michigan. In World War II he was in the Navy and is now retired from the Reserves with the rank of Commander.

From 1937 to 1941, Mr. Todd taught at Warrenton High School. While there he coached football, basketball, baseball, and track. He taught one year at Fairfax High School before coming to Falls Church in 1947. Here he coached football, basketball, track, and baseball, and was Director of Health and Physical Education for twelve years. Mr. Todd left in 1959 to become Assistant Principal for Administration at J. E. B. Stuart High School, where he remained until March of last year, when he was named principal of Falls Church High School.

Mr. Todd feels that "young people are the same all over, but Falls Church has an exceptionally fine student body." His particular interest is athletics and his plans for the future include "making Falls Church the best in the area."

Mr. Arthur J. Valotto, our Assistant Principal for Administration, is very enthusiastic about Falls Church High. He is "impressed with the friendliness and cooperation of the student body and faculty and . . . is proud to bring visitors into the school."

He graduated from West Virginia University about fifteen years ago and since then has taught in Portsmouth, Virginia; was Athletic Director at Falls Church, and was Assistant Principal at Madison for two years before returning to Falls Church last spring.

One of his numerous jobs is the sponsorship of the S.C.A. During the coming years, he hopes to develop this organization into a "body with prestige, capable of running student government." Other plans for the school include establishing a reputation for "our academically and extra-curricularly well-rounded students."

MR. LELAND VLIET
Assistant Principal for Instruction

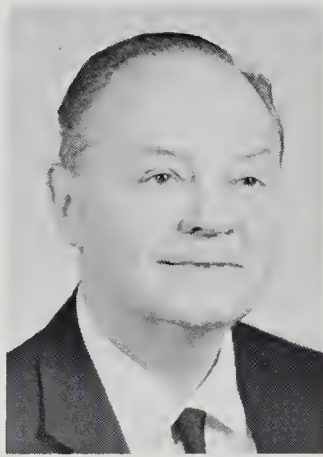

Mr. Leland Arthur Vliet graduated from George Washington University in 1943 with a masters degree in Economics. He came to Falls Church High in 1947 to teach in the Social Studies Department. In 1962 he left to become Assistant Principal of Robert E. Lee High School, where he remained until last year when he returned to Falls Church.

Mr. Vliet is very enthusiastic about the school and feels that Falls Church High does an admirable job in training students for higher education. He is very proud that seventy-six percent of Falls Church High graduates go on to college.

Mrs. Spring "gets the facts" before meeting with one of her students.

The Guidance Department of Falls Church High School strives to provide services which will enable each student to facilitate his academic success, help him recognize and understand his strengths and limitations, assist him in identifying his interests and in formulating realistic educational and vocational goals.

The guidance staff, composed of five full time counselors and one secretary, works under the direction of the Director of Guidance, Mrs. Miles.

Counselors see all of their counselees routinely but they also welcome and encourage them to initiate conferences themselves when they think their counselor can be of assistance to them.

New Audio-Visual materials were purchased this year. The collection of supplemental teaching and appreciation records was expanded and now includes foreign literature and music appreciation among others.

Visiting Teacher

As visiting teacher at Falls Church High School, Mrs. Louise Rigdon acts as the liaison between the school, the home, and the community. As a member of the staff of the Fairfax County Assistant Superintendent for Instruction, she offers a specialized service to each child. "A teacher must have had three years successful teaching experience and special training before she can qualify for a visiting teacher's certificate," Mrs. Rigdon explains, "and we only work with referred students."

Originally from McKenney, Virginia, she received a B.S. from Longwood College and did graduate work at R. P. I. and the University of Virginia. She taught both in North Carolina and southern Virginia before coming to Fairfax County in 1946 and to Falls Church in 1949.

He received his B.S. and M.A. from Appalachian State Teachers College, and taught at Herndon High School before coming to Falls Church. Mr. Grindle says, "The thing I like most about Falls Church is the attitude of the students—they're interested."

Learning to express ourselves, stimulating our imaginations, and exploring the vast store of inspiring literature—these are the demanding goals of the English Department. Study of grammar forms and enlargement of vocabulary are two of the ways by which our ability to communicate with others is perfected.

Reading and understanding the novels of Cooper or Hardy, the thought-provoking dramas of Sophocles or Miller, the poetic treatment of Whitman or Wordsworth increase our appreciation of life and literature.

The foreign language clubs presented an assembly again this year which was a pucces fou. Some of the advanced French classes attended a French performance of L'annonce faite a Marie, which was read in class.

The acquisition of a typewriter with foreign accents made the teacher's work easier.

Two new French teachers, Miss Kane and Mrs. Lavanceau, and one new Spanish teacher, Miss Cordle, joined the teaching staff this year.

Lab work aids in the comprehension of foreign languages.

Science

MRS. MABLE CHAPMAN

This department provides for all students to observe and experiment in the limitless fields of science. Attempts are made to fulfill the needs of students with specific abilities and to encourage these students to seek careers in science.

The curriculum is planned to emphasize the importance of the major scientific principles and their discovery and application as preparation for the evolving atomic and space age.

There are three new instructors in the Science Department—Mr. Feather, Physics; Miss Kiessling, Biology; and Mrs. Crawford, Biology and Science 9.

This year six additional BSCS sections have been added, and activities include the Science Club, the Science Fair, and trips to the Planetarium.

Art Department

Under the guidance of Mrs. Frances Crum and newcomer, Mrs. Peggy Odell, the art department has inspired much artistic creativity. A new enameling kiln was installed in the advanced art classes and instruction in this technique was begun for the first time. Activities included the annual art field trip to New York City, the Variety Show, and the annual art exhibit.

"The fingers, boys, watch the fingers," cautions Mr. Fowler.

One of the major goals of the Industrial Arts Department is to provide training in the most vital fields of industry. This year the department, under the guidance of Mr. Cooper, established an entirely new shop by offering a course in electronics. During its first year at Falls Church High School, Electronics I was offered under the instruction of Mr. Locascio. These classes studied the theory of electricity and electronics. In the future, a second and possibly a third year will be offered in the fields of radio and television.

The Home Economics Department, under the direction of Mrs. Geraldine Marsh, saw several striking innovations this year. The rooms of the department were redecorated and refurnished, and much new equipment was purchased and installed.

Along with the remodeling came an enlarged enrollment, two new teachers, and the introduction of a senior homemaking class to the curriculum. The department sponsored several teas to which friends and teachers were invited, and throughout the year the students received experience in entertaining and basic homemaking skills.

Progressive Math

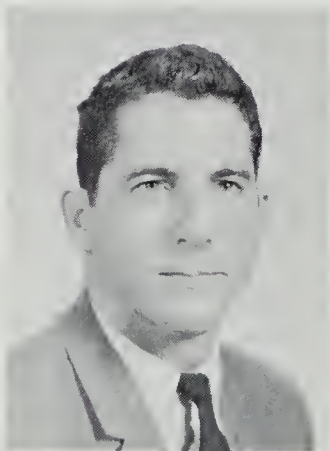

Regular class work is part of every mathematics course.

The Mathematics Department this year offered two courses of study: (1) the academic math which included Algebra I, Geometry, and Algebra II-Trigonometry, and (2) general math, consisting of General Math I & II and senior math. In addition there were electives in advanced math for students who had completed their academic math. Their electives included Functions and Calculus, which is an advanced placement course.

The new math stresses the number system as the foundation of all logical processes. The purpose of this idea is to teach the students to analyze their problems.

The objective of these programs is to provide instruction and training in order to prepare students for employment in various trades.

Also new in the department was the data processing equipment placed in the main office. These machines enabled office training students to become acquainted with automation.

The senior class of 1965 was not one to go by unnoticed. For the magazine drive in September, this enthusiastic class organized into small groups and canvassed the whole school area. With October came the first hints of autumn and the Homecoming weekend. October also meant the presentation of the Senior Class gift, landscaping of the courtyard, to the school. November brought victory for the seniors with the annual Powder Puff Game, and success continued with the ever-popular Sadie Hawkins' Dance. Autumn turned into winter, and mid-term exams came and went. The new year brought more college acceptances and graduation drew nearer. Prom weekend and graduation meant an end to the school year, but for the seniors it meant the beginning of a new life in a world full of many promises and great responsibilities.

The hard-working juniors spent the year making plans for the prom. Showing their determination, they won the first prize of twenty-five dollars for their homecoming float.

The junior girls put up a hard fight against those mighty senior girls in the traditional powder-puff game in November, but could not beat them. The juniors made over two hundred dollars at this event.

With the help of their successful dues drive in November and their bake sales, they reached a goal of twelve hundred dollars by the end of November. Sponsoring this year's Christmas dance, the junior class featured "Jack Alix."

Receiving their class rings was a bigger event than usual because of the ring dance which was held by the class of '66. The '64-'65 session was brought to a close by the spotlight event of the year—the Junior-Senior prom, which the junior class successfully sponsored.

The Class of '67 worked harder than ever this year, centering all of its efforts on raising money for the Junior-Senior Prom next year. In its campaign the Sophomore Class held a Superstition Stomp on Friday the 13th, and two dances in the spring. In addition to these activities the students had various other adventures in order to help the advancement of this class. During each of these activities every student did his utmost to further the goals of the class. The Class of '67 has worked hard to better the whole student body and Falls Church High.

The class of '68 has enjoyed a very busy and productive year. There was a large response to the dues drive. The final standings in the school magazine drive showed that the illustrious Freshman Class captured thirty percent of the school's total sales and led all other classes toward the goal. After much hard work and effort, the Freshman Class dance was held in early March. Everyone present had a good time, and the dance was pronounced a success. Led onward by their president, Gary Chewning, the freshmen strived to become the most spirited and active class in the school.

In Memoriam

This year the Student Council struck out to bring the organization up to its proper place in prestige and duties. It worked especially hard toward improvement of the school and its organizations.

During the summer active students gave their time and effort to rewrite the Student Handbook, which was presented in the fall to freshmen and new students. The old Falls Church High School Constitution was revised and rewritten into a more flexible one. Under the new Constitution the S.C.A. interested more students in taking part in school activities. There was success in all their sponsored activities.

National Honor Society Builds Citizens

The National Honor Society this year extended its activities to include a program of greater service and scholarship. It recognized those who had attained a high degree of scholastic success through Letters of Commendation, and it raised money for a scholarship which was presented at the Awards Assembly. Another service offered was tutoring for students wishing to change "F's" to "A's". A "Thought for the Week" program was initiated—each week a new motto or famous quotation was announced and posted on the bulletin board. Two inductions, one in the fall, the other in the spring, were held.

One of the chapter's main goals was realized this year—the organization of a district level of the National Honor Society. All schools in the area sent three representatives and a sponsor to the first district meeting which was held in Fredericksburg in March.

Tutoring—a service of the Honor Society

New members take part in the fall induction.

The fall induction of the National Honor Society was held in December in the school auditorium. Speeches were given on the four principles of the Honor Society—Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. Twenty-eight members were inducted in the traditional candlelight ceremony.

With the opening of school, immediate work began on the new '65 JAGUAR. The yearbook staff—industrious and enthusiastic—was always ready with interesting ideas.

Cooperation, the keyword of the staff, was a necessary element in all tasks performed, including keeping accounts, arranging layouts, and writing copy. Many people were important in carrying to completion these varied concerns.

Providing a yearbook which preserved the many events of the year was the aim of the '65 JAGUAR Staff.

A new look for the Jaguar Journal was accomplished this year by a change in printing and size of the paper. In addition to this change in appearance, the staff strived to more effectively meet the needs of the students by covering all phases of school life as well as significant community developments. Student opinions were aired in columns, polls, and letters to the editor.

Interested in evaluating and improving the newspaper, the staff joined several press associations and submitted the Journal to critical services. The paper received first place ratings in the Southern Interscholastic Press Association, the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and the Quill and Scroll newspaper service. Delegates attended a press clinic sponsored by the Richmond Newspapers, Inc., a photography clinic, and the Southern Interscholastic Press Association Convention.

PAW PRINT, the fine arts magazine, with two issues a year, is the one school publication which offers a medium of expression for students with literary ability, and those with artistic talent. PAW PRINT is produced solely through the efforts of the students of Falls Church High School. The various staffs judge all contributions, prepare the magazine with the advice and aid of Miss Joanne May, the faculty advisor. The funds needed to print PAW PRINT are obtained from morning doughnut sales and the circulation of the magazine itself.

Promotes Understanding

The purpose of AFS is "the furthering of understanding and good will among the peoples of the world." The club carries out this purpose by bringing teenage students from abroad to study in American high schools and to live with American families, and by sending American teenagers abroad to live with foreign families.

This service club has been active at F.C.H.S. for about seven years and has sponsored students from many countries. Money raising projects this year included: selling school-year calendars, hot chocolate at home football games, Christmas cards, and doughnuts.

During the year the club also enjoyed several social functions. Among these were visiting with the AFS students in the area, sponsoring the Strawberry Rash Festival, having a progressive dinner, and traveling as a group to local places of interest.

On August 15, 1964, Manuela Poggi was greeted at the bus station by her family-to-be and members of the American Field Service Club.

Manuela came to Falls Church from Reggio Emilia, Italy, and is living at the home of Sandie Didawick, secretary of the AFS Club.

Our vivacious 18-year-old AFS student, who spoke little English last August, is active in the National Honor Society, AFS Club, Latin Club, and Keyettes. She enjoys walking, drawing, and chatting with friends.

Manuela, who delights in taking surprise pictures, says that she finds, "people talk more and are more friendly in the high school." When she returns to Italy, she will attend a university and pursue a career in teaching.

Jane McLaughlin and Manuela Poggi enjoy working together for AFS.

Promotes School Spirit

More than ever before, the Pep Club has promoted Jaguar spirit throughout Falls Church High School this year. The president, Dorothy Jackson, and the other officers have had many new ideas that were supported by their hard working members. The club has sold tickets and programs, made posters, and decorated goal posts for home football games.

The new addition of the Pep Squad, a group of enthusiastic girls, has done much to further this club's aim—to promote school spirit. Wearing their green uniforms on Fridays and cheering together at games, the girls boosted the enthusiasm of scheduled sports programs.

The Falls Church High School Junior Civitan Club is a service club devoted to school and community service projects.

Its membership consists of some of the most outstanding boys in the school. Each member is selected for his qualities of leadership, citizenship, and scholarship. The purpose of the Junior Civitans, to build citizens, is achieved through projects in the school and community.

The projects of the Junior Civitans are in many fields. To help school spirit, members cleaned up after the football bonfires, presented a victory wreath to the football team before the Homecoming game, and gave the cheerleaders flowers for the Homecoming game. School sponsored activities included a "School Appearance Week" to improve the conditions of the halls and classrooms, co-sponsorship of the Food and Toy Drive, and sponsorship of a "Safe Driving Week" with the co-operation of the S.C.A. For the benefit of the March of Dimes, the Club held a "King Ugly Contest." After school the Civitans helped out at the Northern Virginia Cerebral Palsy Center. A spring project for the student body was the annual "Swim Fest." For a year-round project, the club has undertaken the sponsorship of an orphan through the Christmas Children Relief Fund.

The Keyette Club, one of the most active clubs in the school, has done much throughout the community and school to demonstrate their motto, "We Serve." A few of their activities have been selling doughnuts for the Peace Corps, helping at the polio center, making cartoon scrapbooks for area hospitals, and giving teas for the patients of Sleepy Hollow Manor Rest Home. The Keyettes also cooperated with the Key Club on several projects. Among them were "trick or treating" for UNICEF, sponsoring Maid and Butler Day for raising cerebral palsy funds, and undertaking a Teachers' Appreciation Week. Yearly projects included working at the United Cerebral Palsy Center and supporting a Japanese orphan.

The service club earned money to support many of these projects by selling hot dogs at football games, checking coats at basketball games, and selling voodoo dolls at the Stuart football game. Bake sales throughout the year served to supplement these funds.

Debating requires the skills of logic, research, organization, oratory, quick mental recall, and the ability to think under great pressure. A debater must be dedicated and hard-working.

Each year a national topic is chosen for all high school teams in the league to debate. This year the topic was — Resolved: That nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization. The Varsity teams included: Affirmative: Ray Converse and Jonathan Rohr; Negative: Bob Rains and Edward Pauley. Junior Varsity debaters were: Affirmative: Frank Carroll and Mark Whitenton; Negative: Bob Blake and Tim Arnold. The Affirmative teams are required to present a plan to fulfill the terms of the topic. The Negative refutes the plan and states that the status quo is a better solution to the problem.

Although this year's teams were hampered by inexperience, Col. Marc, the debate coach, believes that with the experience gained, next year's teams will reach former high standards for Falls Church debaters.

Bob Rains and Ed Pauley prepare for an upcoming debate.

Many activities of the band began before school opened in the fall. Concert and marching rehearsals were scheduled before the members went to Orkney Springs Band camp in August.

The precision routines were a special part of the pre-game and half-time shows during the football season. During Halloween weekend the band used one of the routines in the Vienna Chamber of Commerce Parade and won three first place awards.

Other activities throughout the year included the annual candy sale and the district festival.

Anita Kleinfeld, a junior, has participated in all major drama productions since coming to Falls Church.

A fine cast and crew made this production one of the most successful shows of the year, playing to a near full house each night.

The Jaguar football team featured a new look in their '64 campaign. The loss of last year's coaches to Jefferson High called for a complete change in the coaching staff. Coach Sell and his staff brought about a new spirit in the team and the school. However, costly mistakes and a rash of injuries to key players cost the Jaguars a possible winning season.

At McLean, the Jags picked up their first league victory in two years. In the final game of the season, a penalty called back a touchdown that could have meant victory for Falls Church.

Outstanding offensive players for the season were John Farrell, Bill Bell, Gary Young, Dick Monday, and Ken Soucy. The defensive squad boasted the third best pass defense in the league. Outstanding players were Henry Schutz, Dan Abrams, and Charlie Thompson.

Basketball

Coach Don McCool, stressing defense and hustle, pushed the 1964-65 Jaguars off to a quick start by winning the first two games by over twenty points.

The Jags were involved in two games that were decided by overtime periods. The Jaguars lost the Annandale game in the closing seconds of the second over-time period, but took revenge against the Statesmen of Marshall when Tom Bradley sank a driving lay-up in the last seconds of overtime period. In the Stuart game, a last-second shot by Raiders beat the Jags by one point.

Against Wakefield and Hammond, two of the top teams in the league, the Jaguars were leading until a late press broke their offensive drive.

Toward mid-season, the Jaguars lost Bill Hughes, one of the strongest scorers and rebounders on the team.

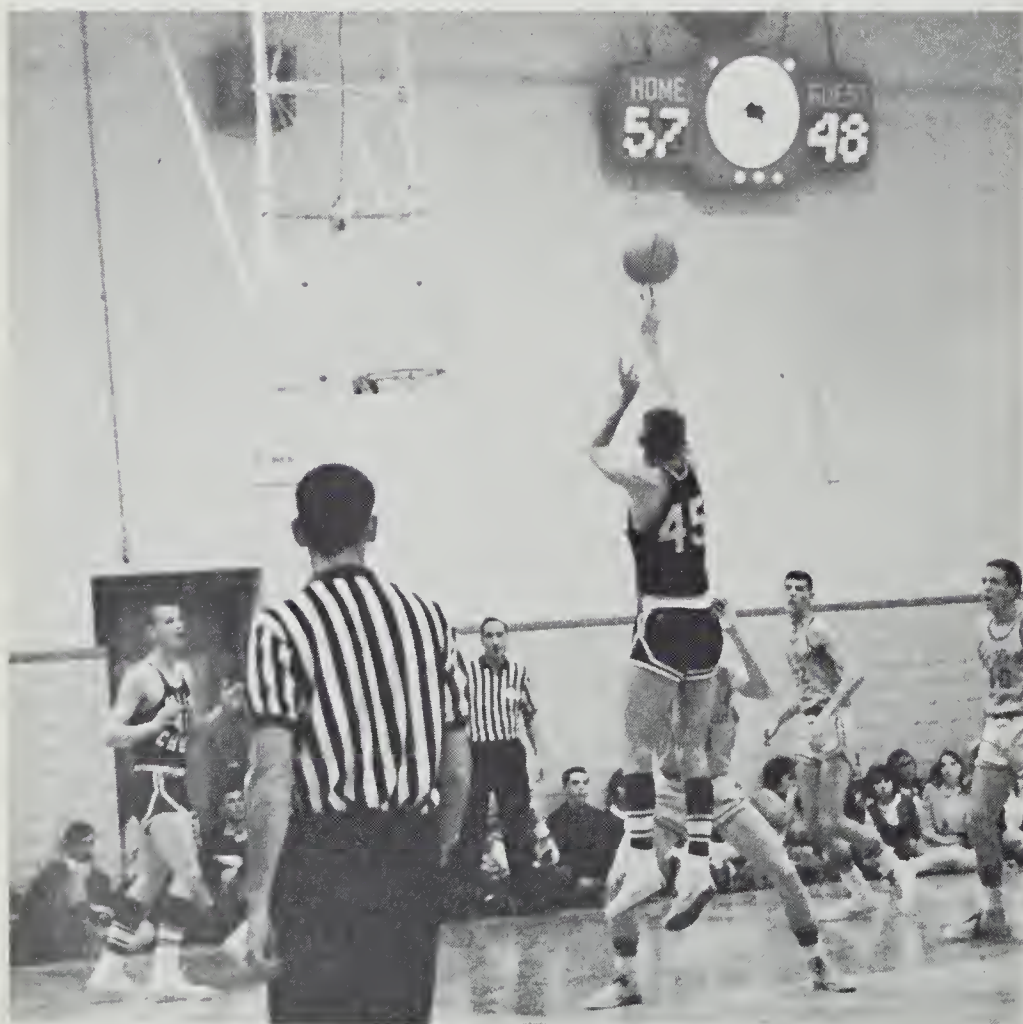

Tom Bradley had the best field goal percentage with forty-eight percent. Mike McKinley led the Jaguars in scoring with a 19.9 average, the second best in the league. Mike also made the second team of All-Northern Virginia.

Of the athletic teams at Falls Church High School, Varsity Wrestling compiled one of the top records. The Varsity Wrestling Squad pulled two major routs during the season, holding Osbourn to three points and McLean to two points. The squad had many fine wrestlers who contributed to a 10-3 record.

In the statistic department, the two co-captains, John Farrell and Craig Burnham, led the squad with the fastest falls, 45 seconds each. Dave Thomas and Dennis Godfrey tied for the season total of pins, earning 5 each. Dave Thomas also led the squad in takedowns and reversals. The escape artist of the squad was Ralph Lorenzo.

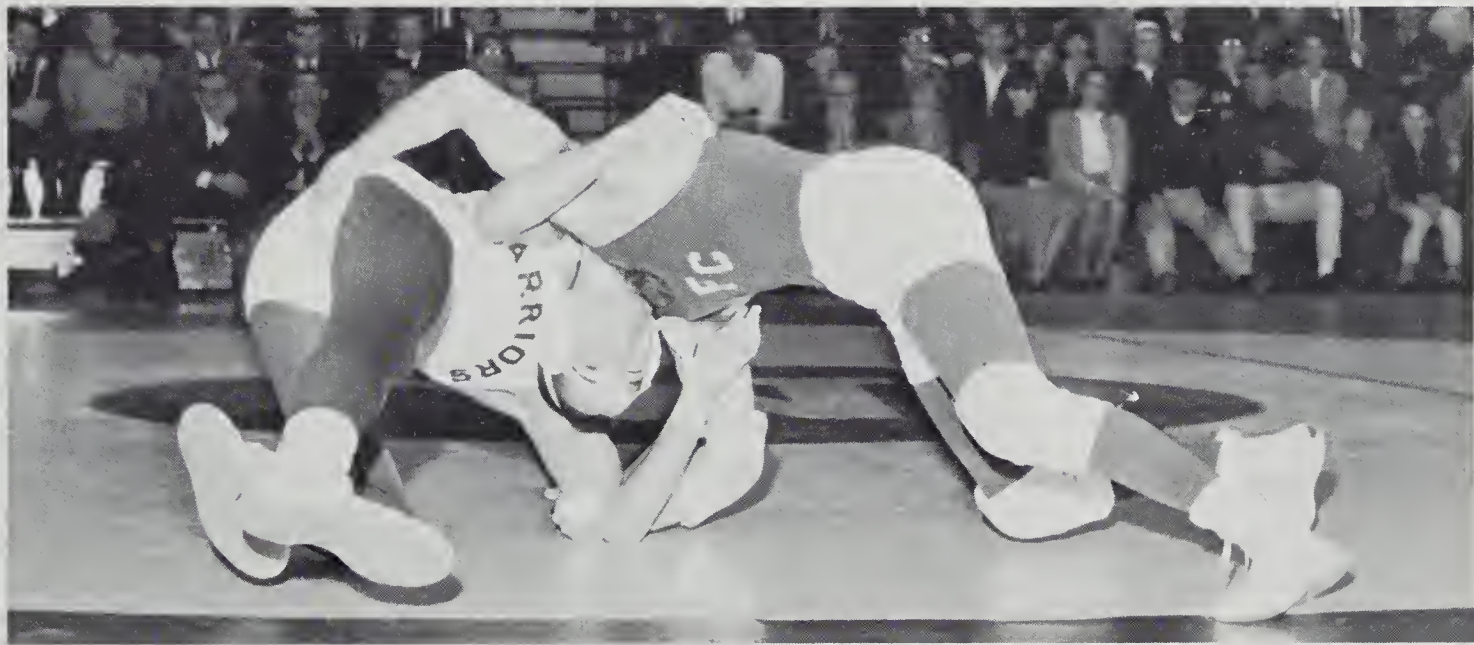

Falls Church had six boys place in the top four of the individual weight classes in the Northern Virginia Wrestling Tournament. John Farrell and Tom Reynolds placed fourth, Dennis Godfrey and Ralph Lorenzo placed third, and Dave Thomas and Craig Burnham won Northern Virginia Championships. In this tournament, Falls Church placed third with 59 points. These six boys represented Falls Church at the State Wrestling tournament at Norfolk, where they placed fourth with 29 points—higher than any other Northern Virginia squad. At the state tournament Dave Thomas was runner-up in the 133 pound division, while Craig Burnham won the 112 pound State Championship. This is the first year Falls Church has had any wrestlers win a state title or even qualify for the finals.

Four of the members of the squad compiled fine records this year. Dennis Godfrey and Craig Burnham were undefeated, while John Farrell and Dave Thomas posted records of thirteen wins and no losses. Craig has not lost in Northern Virginia in the past two years, remaining undefeated for 25 consecutive matches. Although Falls Church is losing many seniors, the prospect for a fine season next year is anticipated.

Varsity Baseball

Rated highly by new coach Dale Larsen, the 1965 Varsity squad had ten returning lettermen to form the backbone of the team. Two of the returnees, first baseman Milt Fall, and pitcher Tom Bradley, were members of the 1964 All-Northern Virginia Squad.

This year the Jags were placed in the Northern District, as the original district split in two, along with nine other teams, four of which made last year's eight-team tournament. Last year's Jaguar team compiled a 12-6 record and placed fifth in the league.

Pat Klewicki and Jack Harvey were the best defensive men on the squad, as Milt Fall, Steve Parks, and Sonny Hood were expected to be the best hitters on the team.

This year's captains were Tom Bradley and Jack Tavenner.

Due to the large concentration of upperclassmen on the squad, a fine season was expected.

Track

Varsity Trackmen got off to a fine start in the 1965 season. In the first week of competition the Jaguars took fifth place in the Fairfax County Relays. In the first dual meet of the season the Jaguars swamped Madison 78-43, with the squad composed mainly of sophomores and juniors and a few seniors.

In the running events, the Jaguars were led by Mostyn Jones and Jim Mathias, while Bill Hughes and Bill Bell led the squad in field events. This year's squad is young, but building for a bright future.

In the Wakefield Invitational, Falls Church placed eleventh out of twenty-two teams and the Jags placed ninth in the Northern Virginia meet. Outstanding for the varsity squad were Mostyn Jones, Mike McKinley, Jim Mathias, and Carl Micale.

The junior varsity squad faired a little better, defeating George Marshall, George Mason, and George Washington. The junior Jags placed twelfth in the Wakefield Invitational and seventh out of fifteen teams in the Northern Virginia meet. The J. V. stand-outs were: Allen Pierce, Rudy Segaar, and Claus Moltke Hoff.

Golf

Poor weather caused a late start for the '65 Jaguar Golf team. Coach Besnier had high hopes and predicted a .500 season. Pete Oakley, Tim Arnold, and Chuck Speacht all received high praise from the coach. Even with the return of many golfers, the team will feel the loss of All-Metropolitan golfer, Phil Hargis.

1964 Homecoming

Mr. Todd presents Karen with the victory football.

The 1964 Homecoming Weekend began in the midst of a downpour during the game against Fairfax. Through the maze of raincoats and umbrellas, loyal Jaguars cheered for the team. Since the weather prevented half-time activities, the court was presented at the Madison game. Prior to this, the floats were judged with the Junior class float, a huge Jaguar raising and lowering a rebel flag, winning first prize.

Rain did not dampen the spirits of the Homecoming Dance, the first semi-formal dance of the year, sponsored by the Senior class. The legendary city of Camelot was brought to life with a drawbridge, banners, and a regal throne. Karen Ashwell, crowned by last year's queen, Cora Herl, reigned over her subjects. The successful dance brought to a conclusion the 1964 Homecoming Weekend.

Dogpatchers look on as Ann Garvin and Dick Monday are hitched.

The characters of Dogpatch again returned to Falls Church High School for the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. They included Judy Tate as Daisy Mac, Ronnie Cotlran as Lil' Abner, Jeri Chewing and Craig Burnham as Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Henry Schutz as Tiny Yokum, Linda Hayes as Moonbeam McSwine, Ken Soucy as Honest Abe, Linda Huff as Cave Gal, Kathy Wells as Wolf Gal, and Skip Dowell as Marrying Sam. The Dogpatch setting was completed by a market place and a band dressed in true Dogpatch fashion.

Prom Court

As this year rapidly drew to a close, the anticipation of the Junior-Senior Prom was felt throughout the school. This dance, the most memorable of the year, was held at the Willard Hotel. Queen Micki Behrend and her court reigned graciously over the evening. The Prom, along with graduation, brought to an end the festivities of the Senior year.

Falls Church

. . . the last band practice

. . . the empty locker

. . . the friendly goodbye

The school year has ended in a flurry of activities. The Prom is over, Graduation is history, and Falls Church High School is peaceful.

The teachers have sealed the fate of the fourteen hundred, the moments of joy and of sorrow have passed, and Falls Church High School is quiet.

The lockers relax their tired combinations, the doors receive their keys for the final time. And, as we close, Falls Church High School is peaceful.
